Choose Durable Material Both in Color and Texture for Shopping Garb During Holiday Season—Crowded Aisles and Elevators Leave Impress on Best Clothes—Towering Trimmings on Hats a Nuisance—Small Hat Favored—Attractive Correspondence Cards Initialed and Monogrammed Very Dainty Gift—Other Souvenirs for Little Price—A Serving Room Hint.

SENSIBLE GARB FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

The woman who is a blessing to herself and humanity at large during these bustling days of over-crowded thoroughfares, is the one who comes into the fray sensibly garbed, choosing durable material in color and texture and designed on thoroughly practical lines.

In holiday crowds we find even intelligent women most inconspicuously gowned and those who give no heed to the matter, objects of ridicule.

Best street clothes should not be paraded, even though one travels luxuriously in a taxi or limousine, for elevators and crowded shop aisles, especially in bad weather, are sure to leave their impress.

Another side of the question of practical garb is the cut of the shopping skirt. When conforming to the narrow width of the smart mode, a woman is not only hindered in her progress, but puts her life in jeopardy when going in and out of cars, crossing streets and going up and down stairs.

Every day witnesses women with sprained ankles and wrists. And flustered nerves are the cry everywhere so also are aching feet, for the smart woman frequently does not choose her shopping boots wisely, but for vanity's sake alone. Thin, paper-weight soles and high heels are infinitely tiring in themselves, when one must remain on the feet for hour at a time.

Nowhere does the common sense and thoughtfulness of the holiday shopper appear to better advantage than in the choice of her headpiece.

Towering trimmings erected at all impossible angles are a source of endless nuisance, and indeed actual disfigurement, for glasses are tossed off and the eyes subjected to the spikelike ends of feather decoration. It is fortunate for everybody that the small hat is the favored one. This should fit snugly to the head with little or small brim and so trimmed as to be thoroughly comfortable and convenient to both wearer and crowds.

SOUVENIRS FOR LITTLE PRICE.

How to make one dollar do the work of two and still preserve our standard for choosing gifts is the problem many women are required to meet. Here is a list of twenty-five and fifty-cent gifts one woman made during her round of the holiday shops.

Very attractive correspondence cards with a variety of initials and monograms appear in most shops. Small fans of the favor or cotton size in pompadour shape of tulle, studded with paillettes in gold and silver, also fans of feather with rosebuds of pink ribbon scattered over the surface. The sticks are of pierced Parisian ivory.

Travelers' cases for toilet articles or needfuls in pins and needles of assorted sizes and varieties. Book markers and magazine covers of suede, and linen with stamp initials or monogram for the former and embroidered in one or more colors for the latter.

Adorable French handkerchiefs in sets of two, three and four in dainty silken cases, especially designed for the holidays.

A SEWING ROOM HINT.

When you are making a jacket and want to fit it on a stand, even if the stand is made to your measure don't forget to put a fully trimmed bodice on the stand before you put the jacket on it, for, of course, the jacket should be fitted so that it can be worn over any bodice without being tight; many amateurs fit their jackets on the stand, forgetting to put the bodice on first. The same may be said about winter bodices, that are to be worn over thick vests or slip-bodices; if thick underclothing is to be worn, it should be put on the stand before the bodice is fitted.

SING A SONG OF CHRISTMAS

Sing a song of Christmas
Of candles and of toys,
What a merry time it is
For all the girls and boys.

Sing a song of foolish folks
Who say there's no St. Nick,
Buy for each a fool's cap
And put it on him—quick.

Sing a song of stockings
All hanging in a row,
How we wish that every one
Was filled from top to toe.

Sing a song of Santa Claus,
Of joy and Christmas cheer,
Keep your eyes wide open for

We think he'll soon be here.

Sing a song of night caps
It is time we were in bed,
Don't you tell a single word,
Of what we just have said.—Sel.

ROOMING HOUSES ARE RAIDED

The Fashion rooming house on Twenty-fifth street and the Lindsay rooming house, on Twenty-fourth street were raided last night by the police. The raids were made about 11 o'clock and six women and one man were caught in the police net.

The Fashion house was raided by Sergeant Peterson and Patrolman Swanson and five women were arrested. At the station they gave their names as Mary Lyons, Margaret Wilson, Allie Hartman, May Brown and Ruth Black. They deposited $250.00 bail and were released.

Sergeant Layne and Officer Martin raided the Lindsay rooming house and arrested Louise McElroy and T. E. Evans. Both stated to the police that they were married and the woman said that Evans was just making a friendly call. They were locked up for the night and will be given an opportunity to prove the woman's statement in the municipal court.

WOMAN TELLS OF SHOOTING

Los Angeles, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Roy L. Glover, of De Villiers, because of whom Glover, a real estate man, shot to death Daniel De Villiers, scion of a famous English family and a Boer war hero, Sunday night, at 2215 West Twentieth street, this city, will be the principal witness to testify in defense of Glover.

The surprising fact developed today that Mrs. Glover, if that is her name, is prepared to clear up the mystery of the second revolver which made its appearance in some strange manner on the night of the tragedy.

Glover shot De Villiers with a Coedy automatic gun. That with two chambers empty and a Mauser automatic, with all chambers filled, constituted the armament in Sunday night's clash. The Mauser was picked up on the floor near where De Villiers lay. Who put it there?

This is the interesting and crucial question that the former wife of De Villiers and the former wife also of Vice Chancellor Vivien M. Lewis, of the state of New Jersey, will answer. Her statement in substance, at tomorrow's inquest will be:

"When I entered the room my husband (Glover) and Mr. De Villiers were struggling. Mr. De Villiers took a revolver from his hip pocket and was trying to shoot Mr. Glover. I ran around behind Mr. De Villiers and twisted the revolver from his hand as he was trying to shoot Mr. Glover. It was then that Mr. Glover shot him."

Upon the still undetermined point as to whom and where she married Glover, the woman who calls herself his wife is silent.

Early today she left the house on West Twentieth street to spend a day at the beach, and the maid was left in charge of the two young children. Up to today it had been supposed that Mrs. Glover did not enter the room where the men were struggling until after the fatal shot.

This, in fact, has been published as coming from Mrs. Glover, but the announcement today throws an entirely new light on the tragedy and gives Glover the benefit of her positive statement about De Villiers having had a revolver.

The messenger boy who accompanied De Villiers to the Glover house Sunday night, is not able to testify either in a negative or affirmative way as to a revolver, hence Mrs. Glover's statement will stand alone. If her statement on this important point is clear and positive it is possible that Glover may be freed at the coroner's inquest.

EX-PREMIER OF DENMARK DEAD

Finance Minister and King for Many Years Fought Danish Parliament.

Copenhagen, Denmark, Dec. 24.—Jacob Brodum Scavenius Estrup, for many years the leading politician of Denmark, died here today. For nineteen years, from 1875 to 1894, he was premier and finance minister in the Danish cabinet. He was born on April 16, 1825, and entered politics in 1854 as a member of the lower house.

Estrup, together with the King of Denmark fought parliament for many years when it demanded that the monarch should choose the minister of state from among the representatives of the people. On many occasions Estrup dissolved the chambers when they refused to pass his budgets and the finances of Denmark were kept in order by means of provisional laws. During practically the whole of his term of office, the majority in parliament was against him. Estrup did much for the development of the Danish railroad system and for the planning of the splendid roads now to be found in Denmark. An attempt to assassinate was made on him October 1, 1885, and as this was believed to have been committed by a political opponent, the parliament was dissolved the next day.

BAND OF YAQUIS ATTACK FREIGHTERS

Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 24.—A band of eighty Yaquis attacked ten Mexican freighters at Riolita, five miles west of La Dura, Sonora, a few days ago and killed three Mexicans and wounded seven according to information received here yesterday. The freighters were ambushed and had but little chance to defend themselves, it is said. Their cargoes, valued at several thousand pesos, and their mules were then stolen. Food supplies in that section are scarce and the people are on the verge of starvation, it is reported.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD---CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Air Passages: You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish.
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
And such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, bawling and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
